

Beauty Ritual

« Travel around the world »

The take off begins with a skin cleansing which should sound very exotic from the very first; just picture a cleansing coconut milk.

The oxygenating mist can be used between each step of the ritual once the skin is rinsed off so as to refresh, tonify and protect the skin. Its sweet & refined grape flavors lightly perfume the skin for a soothing and enchanting moment.

The Polynesian stop over accounts for the heart of the trip with the application of the transparent peel-off mask with Bora-Bora sand: Evocative of fairy-like landscapes and far-off travels, it is a mask with both a natural fresh effect and a skin tightening effect which will surprise you by its transparency embellished by the grains of sand which reflect in crystal clear waters. The mask is suitable for all skin types thanks to its soft formulation, consistent with the relaxing theme of the ritual. 15min after its application, it can be peeled off in one whole piece and it unveils fresh, soft and smooth skin.

Before we had a modeling treatment associated with a rich cream and a nourishing oil perfumed with Polynesian fragrance: frangipani tree oil, vanilla oil, Tiare flower oil, ylang ylang oilSuch an "under-mask", this modeling treatment will be the essential prelude to the transparent peel-off mask so as to create a treatment which associates sensorial pleasures and efficiency.

The end of the trip and of the ritual, favors the tensed and tired zones. The relaxing lotus, the decongestant witch hazel and horse chestnut, associate with a cooling agent to create a relaxing gel to be applied to any part of the body which feels stressed (neck, heavy legs, back...). The gel-texture melts on the skin and transforms into an invisible film which disappears; such a turnaround effect.

The expression then lights up thanks to the roll-on; a very trendy gesture: the smoothing effect of the metal ball under the eye enhances the efficiency of the draining formula: it smoothes over the dark circles and the puffiness under the eyes. A light reflecting agent gives a soft focus finish to the expression which now looks fresh and rested.